SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

On September 11, 1950, under the guidance of Mr. Arch S. Lacefield as sponsor, 179 small, timid, wide-eyed freshmen started on their crusade for knowledge.

We approached the long steps, leading to Campbellsville College with caution, because standing around to watch us were those people called Sophomores. However, we struggled through the year slipping and falling, proving the fact that we were "green," but finally the great day came! School was dismissed for the summer and now we looked forward with eagerness to the time school would again start and we ourselves would be called "Sophomores" or "Upper Classmen."

The long awaited day came! In September 1951, school was reopened. Happily we greeted our friends of the previous year until we realized that many of them would not return to be with us. This saddened our hearts, but then we lifted our heads only to see the faces of new friends, the "Freshmen." We approached them with our cute jokes and "advanced minds" trying to help them; however, the only words we could pull from their lips were, "Mama, Mama." We comforted them the best we could and soon they, too, loved Campbellsville College with the same undying love we had. This year the class chose Mr. Charles E. Vaughan as their class adviser. So we were ready for graduation! (?)

Then the day came! We donned our caps and gowns and walked down the aisles with a dignified air. We received our diplomas and with sorrow in our hearts told our friends "good-bye," realizing that many of us will never meet again. But the time has come when we too, must take our places in the world. We will never forget, however, Campbellsville College, our friends here and our faculty.

We, the graduates of 1952, wish to express to Mr. Lacefield, Mr. Vaughan and the other faculty members our deepest appreciation for guiding us through our first two years of college.

It is the year of 1958, and the biggest Alumni Homecoming Banquet in the history of Campbellsville Junior College is in full progress. Miss Kammerer's band is playing for the big occasion in the college's new beautiful student center dining room. Everyone is here; students who went to school in 1924 to students attending in 1958. Dean Chumbler has come in with his beautiful wife. Bobby Colvin, who is talking to his wife, recently won the Nobel Prize for his mathematical theory about the Fourth Dimension. Mr. Newman, one of the leading educators of the nation, and his wife, the former Betty Woodring, have just come through the door. Miss Betty Brookshire, director of the college's language department is here and, much to my sorrow, she is still single.

Moody and Hyla Cecil are sweeping in. Hyla is wearing a beautiful sable coat. Since Moody has become the leading advertising executive in the world, Hyla collects rare furs for a hobby. Kathryn Smith is having a wonderful time greeting old acquaintances--she has been giving a series of lectures on journalism, and has just returned from a tour of Europe. Bettie Jean Chelf has been talking to her, as Bettie is one of the top models of the United States.

Dorothy Baldock is going around looking at people and taking notes in a little black book. She is planning to write another book as a sequel to her first: "Habits and Motivations of the Human Race". Betty Atkinson, Betty Bryan, and Eva Jane Burkhead are over in a corner flirting again. They have really made a success of their dress designing business--their originals are being copied by Parisian designers.

Four instructors of CJC are talking shop and looking over old friends and students. You'll remember them--Wanda Frizzell, assistant librarian; Zella Burns, commerce teacher; Troy Brammer, biology professor; and Rose Lee Hampton, English instructor. Sue McKinley is telling them a few jokes. There are Michell and Morris Botts, who now have one of the best farms in the state.

Jean Smallwood, Roxie Brown, Kaye Wade, and Betty Sloan pooled their resources and developed the largest cattleranch in Florida. When they came in, they left their guns and spurs at the door. Mildred Spear and Betty Garner, big-game huntresses, had to leave their rifles at the door, too. They came home two weeks ago from Africa, where they have been hunting rhinoceroses. Eva Mae Jagers and Barbara Manakee, who are greeting them, came down from Washington. We hear that they are quite experts on forming our foreign policy. They are all making up for lost time, talking to Gene Best, who is now in the army as "Chief Cook and Bottle Washer". Paul Stanley is talking to Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Crutcher. Jimmy is now pastor of a church near Elizabethtown. Paul, who is Dean of Wesleyan College For Girls, says that he enjoys his "duties" very much.

Cobert Richards, an undertaker, and Tandy Pedigo, Coach at Campbellsville, are having a heart-to-heart talk. Tandy, who gives the boys a good workout, also gives Cobert a good supply of customers. Wayne Dobson is keeping his eye on Harold Hill. The reason? Wayne is now with the F.B.I., and he is investigating Harold, a concert harpist, for transporting stolen jewels in his harp case. Marcia Pruett made a new record by swimming the English Channel two months ago. It is rumored that Jim Burger has a new job as a circus clown. Bryon Casada and Beauford Price have also made some records in speed-boat racing and stunt flying, respectively. They have caused a new record of squeamish stomachs.

LaVerne, now a general in the WAC Corps, is making eyes at Vernard Ratliff. We all feel very proud of Vernard because a month from now he will finally become a Pfc., after six years as a recruit. Patria Lee and Mary Mullins have something to be proud of, too--they have just been named top government economists.

Charlotte Boyd, Max Huff, Betty Hughes, and Nannie Perkins are having a wonderful time sharing experiences from their mission fields in Africa, India, China and South America, respectively. Joyce Ash, Frances Walker, Betty Burner, Eleanor Rogers, Stacy Darland, Cleo Yates, Mary Lou Murphy, Ann Wettstain, and Laura Whitaker have been working for the Home Mission Board. Over there in a group are Ronald Burnett, Newell Casey, Robert Davis, Robert Holland, Benjamin Hubbard, Carroll Haynes, Melvin Johnson, Herbert Keeton, Lyndell Lawless, Cecil Mobley, Edward Pierce, and W. E. Ransom, comparing their churches and discussing their pastoral problems. They are all out of school now and have thriving fields of service.

Mr. and Mrs. H.R. Naberhuis are now living in Florida, where Mr. Naberhuis is pastor of a Baptist church in Miami. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Woods are living in Frankfort where Mr. Woods is also pastor of a church.

Over on the far side of the room are another group of pastors and their wives. This group of pastors was not married back in 1952--but--they are now! There is Donald Baker, Taylor Bristow, Don Downing, Bob Goff, George Gray, Kenneth Hayes, J.F. McKinley, and Gene Puckett. Wilma Wise is included in the wives.

William Purdom is helping to set the stage for the program with Kenneth Broughten and Maurice Mings, who own a small thriving business tuning pianos. Betty Cecil is fixing the scenery. She has kindly consented to fly down from Chicago to arrange it. Betty is the Dean of the Art Department and the University of Chicago.

Maxcy Reynolds and Adolph Grigsby are also putting in their two cent's worth. They are arranging the indirect lighting. Jack Chambers, the well-known stage actor is giving a few pointers.

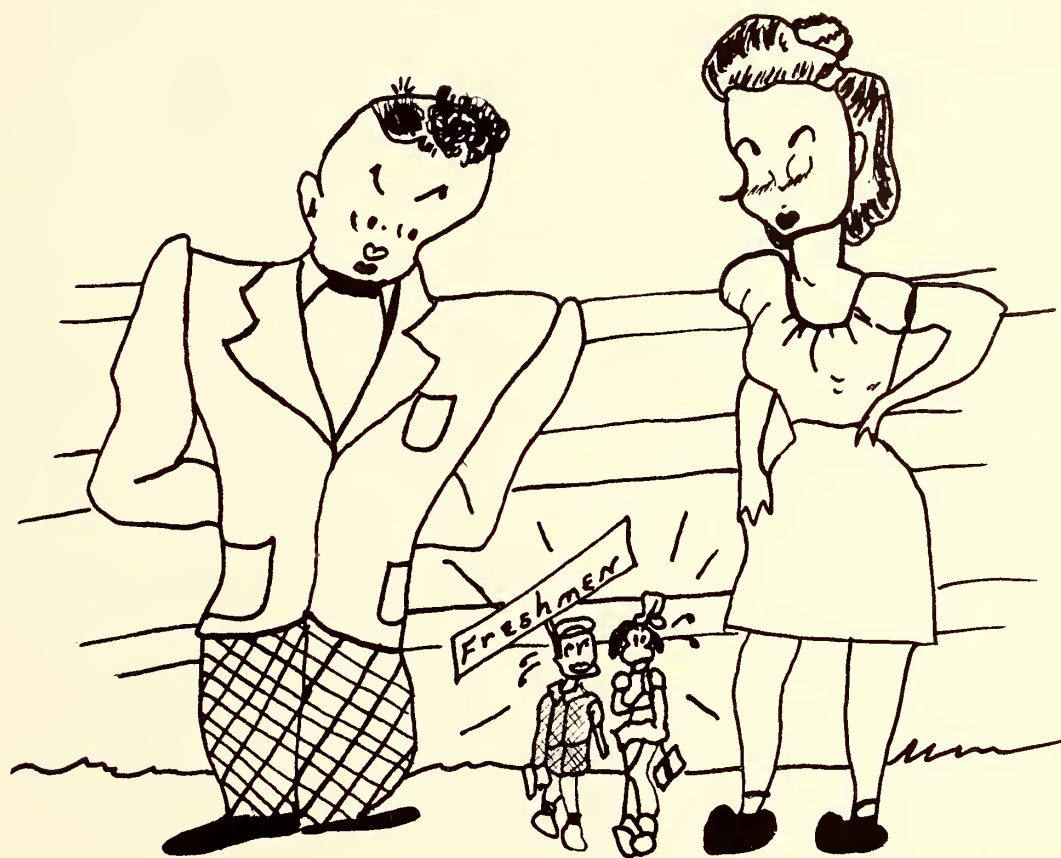

While the program preparation is going on, everyone is seeing his old friends. The former Peggy Hawkins, Martha Goodwin, and Jo Ann Asher are talking "up a storm". Peggy and Martha are discussing B.S.U. work, of course, since Peggy is a "Mrs. B.S.U. Student Secretary" and Martha is Student Secretary on the Campus of Campbellsville. Jo Ann is Educational Director and organist of the Harrodsburg Baptist Church. There comes Norma Jean Brown, who is Church Secretary at the Covert Avenue Baptist Church in Evansville, Indiana. She is with Joy Smith who is now head nurse at the Baptist Hospital in Louisville. Martha Lockhart is Church Secretary at the Lawrenceburg Baptist Church. Lila Lee Davis and Delores Dobbs are just sitting and talking. They are now married and are talking about their children and their husbands, who, by the way, are ministers.

Harold Faught and Billy Wise are playing professional basketball and rumors are that their team will be undefeated next season.

Raul Rodriguez and Leo Rios are teaching English in the high school in their home towns in Cuba. There is another group of teachers who are discussing their schools. Let's see--there's Bettye Long, Hilda McKinley, Marcella Milby, Christine Eubank, Elsie Chambers, Frances Price, Lohman Rayburn, Glenna Smith, Mary Ella Smith, Ann Elizabeth Sutherland, Phyllis Stone, Ruth Warf, Joan Van Arsdale, and Dorothy Russell. Mrs. Wanda Lindsey keeps the home fires burning for her teacher husband.

Well, at last everything is set. The lights dim, and the band plays soft strains of music. Cecil Sims will be MC--just the person, as he now has a question and answer program on CBS. Now the Spotlight is on Norman Hopper, who sings several numbers. Norman is now Minister of Music at Monticello Baptist Church. Next on the program is someone who will never be forgotten by her classmates--Willa Burns. Willa now has her own radio program and it is quite popular among radio listeners. Everyone is settling back, because they know that they are in for a lot of laughs. So on went the banquet and on went the lives of the Alumni--we wish for each of them a life richly blessed by God in the coming years.

Jane Bourne.
